A relatively new group to the music scene, Zac Wilkerson and the Wayward Souls have an awesome blend of Rock, Soul, and Country giving each of their songs a genuine Americana feel.

Based out of Amarillo, Texas, Zac Wilkerson has unsurprisingly gained quite the following after performing at Larry Joe Taylor's Texas Music Festival. This growing fan base is completely justified, for this band's talent and sound is comparable to that of big names such as, The Black Keys, Alabama Shakes, and J.Roddy Walston and the Business.

I can promise you that this band will gain some momentum on the West Coast because Zac Wilkerson and the Wayward Souls with their rich acoustic sound, engaging lyric choice, and multi-talented bearded front man have what it takes to soon become a household name throughout the Bay Area.
